In October, the Fund declined 9.66% in MYR terms, outperforming the Benchmark by 105 basis points ("bps"). Year-to-date, the Fund declined 13.57%, outperforming the Benchmark by 223 bps.

Islamic Asian ex-Japan equities declined 11.5% (USD) in October; with the North Asian countries (China, Korea and Taiwan) falling the most amidst global growth concerns and re-pricing of equities with higher US bond yields. Equities in ASEAN countries were more resilient as expectations were muted and are generally more insulated from the US-China trade war. Oil price fell by 9% to USD 75.50, providing relief to oil importing nations such as Indonesia, Philippines and India. China's politburo, the top decision making body held a meeting on 31 October and voiced their concerns about the downward pressure on the economy, avoided deleveraging and property tightening topics (versus previous meetings) and possible infrastructure investment.

We have raised portfolio dividend yields to ~3%, diversified the sector and factor (growth, value) weights by looking for idiosyncratic names that are less correlated to trade frictions & growth risks. The portfolios have a Beta of ~0.93 and Overweight Real Estate (REITs), Energy and Information Technology, Underweight Consumer Discretionary, Consumer Staples and Communication.
